Daniel L. Hart's play, "A Daughter of Dixie," was repeated at the Frothingham theatre last night before a good sized audience and made another pronounced hit.

The beautiful scenery, sparkling dialogue and finished acting of the company quite captivated the audience.

DAUGHTER OF DIXIE REPEATED.

An Enthusiastic Audience Witnesses the Second Performance.

The second production of Daniel L. Hart's new play, "A Daughter of Dixle," at the Frothingham last evening was attended by a good-sized and enthusiastic audience. The many ex-cellent features of the piece were liberally applauded and the presentation of the play was better than on Monday evening. Mr. Hart was called upon for a speech at the end of the second act and responded in a happy and graceful manner.

One of the homelike features of the first set was the appearance of Duke, the splendid St. Bernard belonging to Editor Sam W. Boyd, of the Wilkes-Barre News Dealer. Duke attracted considerable attention upon the streets during the day, and there was hardly a dog fancier of the city who did not admire the beautiful animal.

Tonight "A Daughter of Dixio" will be presented at Carbondale under the auspices of the Mozart Band.

D. B. ATHERTON'S UNIQUE SCHEME Year Ago the Church Was $10,000 in Debt But Now It Doesn't Owe a Dollar - A Trustee's Impractical

Plan Proves to Be Practical-Mortgage Burned With Pleasure-Property Is Worth $60,000.

The annual meeting held last night of the congregation and officers of the Providence Presbyterian church was interesting in that it revealed the successful culmination of a really great financial church work. One year ago yesterday the church was $10,000 in debt. During the year the amount was raised and also a sum sufficient to pay the running expenses of the church. On Monday the last dellar of the professional sufficients of the professional sufficients. dollar of the mortgage was paid to Samuel S. Gilbert, of Gilbertsville, N. Y., and as a fitting culmination of the cancelling of the obligation the mort gage was burned last night in the

D. B. Atherton, president; Charles Von Storch, treasurer, and H. H. Mc-Kechan were re-elected to continue on the board of trustees. W. J. Lewis and B. B. Atherton continue to serve on the

HOW IT WAS DONE.

It is interesting to knew how the feat of clearing the church from debta feat second only perhaps to the great Elm Park church work-was accomplished. The fact of a debt was a troublesome fact to the trustees, many of whom are well known business men. President D. B. Atherion came forth with a scheme, unique in its way, which at the start was looked upon by the board as impractical.

The plan of hir. Atherton was to assess each member of the congregation one-tenth of his income. At the start it was not known what salaries or incomes belonged to the members, nor was it known how many would consent to the Scriptural authority to give their tithes. However, in a few days following the announcement of the idea, the various resources of the individuals of the congregation were very accurately ascertained and all agreed to furnish the amount assessed them. The money was all paid in May 1, the mortgage paid later, and, very properly, this announcement was made formally at last night's meeting. Remarks were made by Rev. George E. Guild, W. J. Lewis, D. B. Atherton and F. M. Vandling. The sentiments expressed were a source of gratification to those present, who knew that during a few years, with comparatively little to commence with, the church has now a property valued at $60,000, including the parsonage adjoining the church on North Main avenue. A GIANT HAS ARISEN. These facts are presented in detail for the reason that many residents who are wrapped up in church work of the central city have lost sight of the fact that a church glant has arisen in Mr. Guild, the pastor, in his remarks was disposed to place the credit of the great work upon the trustees, and they in turn very modestly were disposed to attribute much of the great success to the pastor; but the fact remains that the feat has been accomplished and the church is willing that the world should know it.

D. P. THOMAS' SUDDEN DEATH.

Announcement a Painful Surprise to His Many Friends.

The announcement in THE TRIBUNE yesterday morning of the death of D. P. Thomas, of Church avenue, Provilence, created a profound sensation throughout the city. He was a genial, whole-souled man and had hundreds of warm personal friends throughout the city, Mr. Thomas was a master painter and had been until about a year ago the owner of the Blade, a paper devoted to the interest of the Cymric race in this region. He was apparently as well as usual Monday night until an hour before his death, when he was stricken with apoplexy.

Mr. Thomas was a member of the True American Ivorites and Independent Order of Odd Fellows. He was one of the organizers of the Cambro-American choir and a member of the Scrapton Press club. In politics Mr. Thomas was a Republican and did much active service for the party.

The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late residence. The remains at 2.30 will be conveyed to the Providence Presbyterian church, where services will be conducted by the Rev. G. E. Guild. Interment will be made at Forest Hill cemetery. Common Councilman P. H. Golden has been appointed chairman of a committee of Irish American citizens of this city who desire to express the esteem in which the late D. P. Thomas of Providence was held by them.

As the representative of that com-mittee Mr. Golden yesterday gave an order for a floral offering to be placed on Mr. Thomas' casket. It will be a broken column five feet in height and contain this inscription: "A man who knew no distinction of race."

CONNECTING THE LINES.

As soon as the work is completed and the road ready for operation, cars will be run from Eynon street to the end of the South Side line, passing through the center of the city on Lackawanna avenue. Cars will also run from the end of the Taylor line to the end of the Greenwood line for a single trip.

SUICIDE IN PROVIDENCE WOODS.

The Body of Josep Newikawijs, a Polander, Found Hanging

Patrick O'Neill, of the North End, went hunting yesterday and in the woods a few hundred yards west of Keyser avenus he found the body of a man whose appearance indicated him to be either a Polander or a Bohemian hanging to a tree.

The suicide was a muscular man, over six feet tall and apparently about 25 years old. In his pockets were found tew articles of trivial value. The name Josep Newikawija found on some newspapers in the pockets. Lieutenant Spellman met the man Sunday night on North Main avenue wandering around in an aimless manner. Alderman Noon, of the Third ward,

MR. VOSBURG'S CANDIDACY.

The Northwest Republicans Desire Him for District Attorney.

The people of the northwestern portion of the county are asking for repre-sentation upon the Republican ticket and have united upon Alton A. Vosburg, esq. as their candidate for district attorney. In this request they are heartily joined by his many friends in the North End, where he now resides. Mr. Vosburg can well be said to represent this section of the county, as he was born in Scots township in 1865, and resided there for many years. He attended Keystone Academy at Factoryville and the National University at Lebanon, Ohio, at which latter place he also studied law in the law department connected with that institution. He then entered the office of Gunster & Wells, and after the usual course of study was admitted to the bar at the age of twenty one. Since that time he his been engaged in the practice of his profession in this city and with what success is shown by the following quotation from the Scranton Times: A young man who is achieving fame and incidentally accumulating wealth is Mr. Vosburg, of the firm of Hulslander & Vosburg, the lawyers. There are few young men who have forged shead so admirably in the law as he. He is an impressive pleader a parsistent worker and withole pleader, a persistent worker and withal a most modest young man. He never in-dulges in agony, never rants over trifles. He is cool, collected and level-headed in all his work. He and Mr. Huislander make an admirable team, and while nei-ther of them seek admiration, their clever work is winning it for them every

Mr. Vosburg has not yet consented to become a candidate, but it is be-lieved that he will yield to the wishes of his friends.

Whelan, ex-cutors of the John Flyan estate, is the latest hig realty deal which will develop into the tuilding of one o. the finest and largest office buildings in the state.

The price paid was $80,000 for the two properties. However, Mr. Mears would not discuss the financial part of the sale yesterday. He eaid it was a private matter and seemed indiguant when questioned about it.

WHO ORIGINAL OWNERS WERE. Originally the four sections of the pruce street buildings running from the alley toward Washington avenue were owned by C. Parker Davidson, Arthur D. an, H. N. Patrick and Andrew P. Bedford as the names appear. Alfred Harvey, the silk manufacturer, purchased the Patrick and Bedford sections for $23 000. Arthur Dean purchased the Davidson section, the row costing them less than $15,000. When John A. Mears plans for erecting an office building at the corner of Spruce street and Washington avenue were known, Harvey & Dan secured the Gates property which ran alongside of the southern portion of Mr. Mears lot. They paid $28,030 for it which made the two properties coat them $74,000. The now Mears property has an 80-foot frontage on Washington avenue and extends 150 feet back to Lee court. The original idea to build a ten-itory office structure has not been changed except to conform to the new and larger dimensions of the plot. TREMENDOUS ATTRACTIONS.

With the Barnum & Bailey Show This Year.

Have the children by all means see the grand Ethnological Congress of atrange and savage tribes when Bar num & Bailey's Greatest Show on Earth comes here Thursday. It is just possible that no books in the world will convey one hundredth as much actual information about the curious races of human beings inhabiting this earth as an hour spent in viewing them in the circus. Here, too, may be seen the wives, daughters and sohs of these people, together with their curious huts and tents, old waapons of war and the chase, bark and skin conces, bow and arrows, lances, assagais, poisoned darts, crude agricultural implements and ancient tools, queer and outlandish costumes-some almost nuds-quaint musical instruments, and all the savage parapher muts, and all the savage paraphernalia belonging to barbarous and semicivilized races. Here are Esquimaux, Hindus, Todas, Singhalese, Amazons,

Algerian, Burmese, Nubians, Anstruiians, Papuans, New Zealanders, Cannibals, Javanese, Kliags, Nepulese, Maleys, Moors, Arabs, Soulanese, Japanese and many other amazing groups, In the same tent "may be seen also Chiko and Johanna, those two remarkable giant male and femule gorillas, which have become famous from being logned to the goological garden at Central Park, New York, by Mr. Bailey, and where they expited the wonder of thousands daily. These are the only live gorillas at present in captivity in the world, and the only male and female ever seen together at any time, and still more wonderful, they are a pair of giants.

A veritable mid-way will be found in the double menagerie tent, where there are fifty cages of the rarest and costliest specimens of wild beasts from all over the world. The new free street parade also is a wonderful affair, in which the military uniforms of all nations are shown, as well as represent atives of the present rulers of the world, civilized and barbarons, sary.

The couple united were Ezra Wiggins, of Plymouth, and Mrs. Martha Newhart, of Factoryville. It is Mr. Wiggin's third matrimonial adventure. His first wife died Sept. 20, 1854, and his second Dec. 1, 1886. He is a onearmed man and follows the occupation of a watchman. His wife had been married but once previously. The circus was exhibited here from May 1 to May 5 and the general large attendance during those days testify to the merit of the entertainment. The show returns here from New York state owing to threatened prosecution against Mr. Carey by the Mohawk Val ley Humane society for allowing the bicycle riding exhibition of Master Livingston, a tot of 6 years.

After the show had exhibited four days in New York state, the manage-ment made itsels liable to a $500 fine under the provisions of the Gerry act for each peformance of Master Liv-ingston. Mr. Carey was to have been arrested Monday morning at Albany, where the show was being given, but the plan of the prosecuting society was known and Sunday the show was transported from Albany by a special train to this city.

Young Livingston is really a prodigy in his line, and his acrobatic feats on a bicycle have astonished the spectators in Scranton and wherever else the show has been seen. His mother and father are also trick bicycle riders and appear with the little fellow. The child is well cared for and is in the custody of his parents. The clergy of all denominations are invited to attend the show free of charge to witness any performance.
